WITNESS' MEMORY POOR.
Able to Recall Gambling at Gale's Island Resort, However.

Brattleboro, Aug. 29.—Taking depositions of the Vermont witnesses in the case of Fred C. Gale against Gen. J. H. Abbot of Concord, N. H., brought to recover $20,000 damages for an alleged libel, was continued today. Court was to convene at 10:30 a. m., but B. F. Dudley, counsel for Mr. Gale, was unable to get there on time and so the case was held over until this afternoon when the deposition of T. N. Herrick was taken.

Little new light was thrown on the case by his testimony, but that of previous witnesses that gambling had been carried on was corroborated.

The witness suffered many lapses of memory and was unable to recall whether or not he bought a quart of whiskey of Gale last Thursday or not.
